Please review the attached draft of a uniform non-disclosure agreement proposed for utilization in connection with the APEX special access control system. Provide comments to OS/PPG by COB 22 Feb 80.

I offer the following comments about the proposed Uniform Non-disclosure Agreement:

(a) I agree with NSA's first objection that is the agreement ignores other designated intelligence categories. This shortfall is clearly visible in para 5 of the agreement. Certainly the government's need to review an employee's publication or speech is to weed out any classified data in subject item, not just sensitive compartmented information.

(b) It strikes me that the last sentence of para 6 of the agreement is out of place. The statement that the government may take away individuals' access at any time should stand alone and not come at the end of a paragraph that spells out a specific reason for removing an individuals access. I believe the statement concerning the removal of an individual's access by the government should follow the existing para 9 of the agreement. Last but not least ~~is~~ a layman to security knowledge, it beats the hell out of me to what the author is trying to say in para 8 of the agreement.
